

CLAIRE BOOKER

SPENCER WRIGHT (17)

AMBITIOUS. WITTY. STUBBORN.

Sent on a trip with the Men's soccer team, a high school journalist, skeptical of love, is forced to step out of her comfort zone. When the rowdy team captain makes it his mission to break down her walls, the trip teaches her she can be more than just her cynical reputation. Especially when she catches feelings for her worst nightmare...a jock.

Think: Kaitlin Denver x Saoirse Ronan

GENEVIEVE WHITMORE (18)

DETERMINED. RESOURCEFUL. EMPATHETIC.

18th-century daughter to a wealthy nobleman, her dreams of becoming a successful writer are crushed when her father orders her to marry an equally headstrong and secretive aristocrat. Despite her reluctance, she cannot deny their connection. When she learns why he is so guarded, she must decide whether to expose his secrets and regain her freedom, or remain steadfast in her vows. Think Elle Fanning in The Great

MORGAN MCALLEN (21)

CUNNING. ADRIFT. LONER.

Having struggled to fit in, she plays video games to escape. Despite being a very skilled coder, navigating her independence is becoming increasingly complex, especially with a co-dependent mother with a history of drug abuse. Will she accomplish her dreams of moving to California to make her video games? Or will fear of her mother's relapse keep her from leaving Dyersville, Iowa? Think: Sadie Sink x Emma Mackey
